EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

Following the economic and financial crisis, the European System of Financial Supervision and the European Banking Authority (EBA), established in 2011 by Regulation (EU) No. 1093/2010 of the European Parliament and the Council of 24 November 2010 establishing a European Supervisory Authority (European Banking Authority), have improved cooperation between supervisors within the EU. However, responsibilities for supervision of banks have remained at national level.

On 30 May 2012 the Commission has called for a European banking union to restore confidence in banks and the euro and better preserve financial stability. One of the elements of the banking union should be a single EU banking supervisor with direct oversight of banks, to enforce prudential rules in a strict and impartial manner and perform effective oversight of cross border banking markets.

At the Euro area summit on 29 June 2012, the Heads of State or Government have called on the Commission to present proposals on the basis of Article 127(6) TFEU to set up a single supervisory mechanism shortly. They have asked the Council to consider these proposals as a matter of urgency by the end of 2012. Once such a mechanism involving the European Central Bank (ECB) will be in place, the European Stability Mechanism could directly recapitalize banks established in the Euro area.

This proposal forms part of a legislative package dedicated to implementing the single supervisory mechanism, as a first step towards a truly European banking union which should also be composed of a European deposit insurance scheme and a common European resolution system and will be reinforced by the development of a single rulebook for financial services. The package includes: a Commission Communication presenting the interaction between the different elements of the banking union and explaining how the banking union will be implemented; a proposal for a Council Regulation conferring specific tasks on the ECB concerning policies relating to the prudential supervision of credit institutions in accordance with Art. 127(6) TFEU, and the present proposal introducing the amendments to the EBA Regulation which are necessary following the establishment of the single supervisory mechanism.

Under this new mechanism, the ECB will carry out a wide range of key supervisory tasks over credit institutions in the Euro area Member States. With a view to maintaining and deepening the internal market, other Member States will be allowed to enter into close collaboration with the ECB.

To avoid fragmentation of the internal market following the establishment of the single supervisory mechanism, the proper functioning of the EBA needs to be ensured. The role of the EBA should therefore be preserved in order to further develop the single rulebook and ensure convergence of supervisory practices over all EU.

Moreover, for matters falling under its supervisory functions, the ECB will coordinate the position of the Euro area Members States when they participate in the Board of Supervisors and the Management Board of the EBA. To ensure that EBA decisions reflect the interest of the Union as a whole, voting modalities should provide for a balanced and adequate representation of all Member States in the decision making process.

2. RESULTS OF CONSULTATIONS WITH THE INTERESTED PARTIES AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

The impacts of the initiative were assessed by the Commission, taking into account the analysis done in the context of the adoption of the "supervisory package" which created the European Supervisory Authorities and assessing all key operational, governance, financial and legal aspects of establishing a SSM. The preparation of a formal impact assessment was not possible within the timetable set by the Euro area Summit of 29 June.

3. LEGAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

The proposal is based on Article 114 TFEU since it amends Regulation (EU) No. 1093/2010 adopted under the same legal basis.

The proposal modifies the voting modalities for EBA decisions subject to simple majority, in order to ensure that interests of all Member States are adequately taken into account and to allow for the proper functioning of the EBA in the interest of the Union as a whole. Furthermore, in order to avoid unjustified different treatment of the ECB and the competent authorities of Member States not participating in the single supervisory mechanism and to ensure that existing mechanisms for settlement of disagreements remain effective, the proposal vests the EBA with the necessary powers to act in cases the ECB does not intend to comply with an EBA decision.

To that purpose, this proposal modifies the following Articles:

The wording of Articles 4, 18(1) and 35(1) to (3) is amended to ensure that EBA can carry out its tasks also in relation to the ECB by clarifying that the notion of "competent authorities" includes also the ECB, as it does in the other articles which make reference to "competent authorities".

In order to ensure that EBA can carry out its tasks to settle disagreements and act in emergency situations also in relation to the ECB, in articles 18 and 19, paragraphs 18(3a) and 19(3a) are introduced to provide for a specific procedure in relation to the decision taken by the EBA under Article 18(3) or 19(3). The procedure provides that if the ECB does not comply with an action by EBA to settle a disagreement or to address an emergency situation, it should be required to explain its reasons. In that unlikely case, whenever based on requirements set out in directly applicable Union law EBA can adopt an individual decision addressed to the financial institution concerned, EBA is expected to do so. This will ensure full enforceability of EBA's settlement of a disagreement and its action in an emergency situation.

Article 41 is amended in order to confer full decisions making powers to the independent panel on breaches of EU law and settlement of disagreements, and adapt rules on its composition accordingly.

Article 44 is amended to provide that the decisions proposed by the independent panel are adopted unless they are rejected by a simple majority, including at least three votes of participating Member States and non-participating Member States. A specific provision is added on the appointment of the independent panel.

Article 45 is amended to ensure that the Management Board includes at least two Member States which are not participating in the SSM.

4. Detailed Explanation of the Proposal

Binding mediation/emergency situations

When the ECB acts as competent authority, Article 19(3) of the EBA Regulation would allow the EBA to address binding decisions to the ECB on action in emergency situations and on settlement of disagreements. However, the exercise by the ECB as an EU Institution established by the Treaties of tasks under Art 127(6) TFEU cannot be made subject to binding decisions by the EBA as a body set up by secondary law. For this purpose a specific paragraph has been added to cater for this specific institutional setting.

Voting modalities

The fact that the ECB will coordinate the position of the Euro area Member States requires a review of the voting modalities currently provided for in the EBA regulation, in order to ensure that EBA decisions are taken in the interest of maintaining and strengthening the internal market for financial services.

Under the EBA Regulation, decisions concerning regulatory matters (binding technical standards, guidelines and recommendations provided for in Articles 10, 15 and 16, and decisions to reconsider restrictions on financial activities provided for in Article 9.5) as well as budgetary matters (Chapter VI) are taken by the Board of Supervisors on the basis of a qualified majority of its members, as defined in Article 16(4) TFEU and Article 3 of the Protocol No 36 on transitional provisions.

Decisions on other issues (e.g. on breach of law according to Article 17, on settlement of disagreement under Article 19, on the election of Management Board) are adopted by the Board of Supervisors by simple majority of the voting members according to the rule "one man one vote".

If voting rights remain unchanged, it cannot be ensured that decisions taken by simple majority will always represent the interests of the Union as a whole. Voting arrangements need therefore to be adjusted in some specific cases of simple majority to ensure that the integrity of the internal market remains preserved while avoiding at the same time the risk of paralysing the EBA decision making.

The best option identified to achieve this objective is to confer decision making powers on an independent panel and provide for a strong reverse voting mechanism which will ensure that the proposal prepared by the independent panel is supported by Euro area and non-Euro area Member States. This will also ensure that Euro area Member States cannot have a blocking minority in case of actions taken against one of them.

Composition of the Management Board

In view of the decisive influence of members from Member States participating in or closely cooperating with the single supervisory mechanism when electing the Management Board (simple majority of members present), members from Member States not participating in the SSM could not be appropriately represented adequately in the Management Board. To ensure a balanced composition of the Management Board reflecting the EU as a whole and including Member States not participating in the single supervisory mechanism the proposal amends the composition of the Management Board of the EBA to ensure that at least two members from Member States not participating in the single supervisory mechanism are represented in the Management Board.

5. BUDGETARY IMPLICATION

The proposal has no implications for the EU budget.

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

amending Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 establishing a European Supervisory Authority (European Banking Authority) as regards its interaction with Council Regulation (EU) No.../... conferring specific tasks on the European Central Bank concerning policies relating to the prudential supervision of credit institutions

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national Parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee\(^2\),

Having regard to the opinion of the European Central Bank\(^3\)

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

(1) On 29 June 2012, the Euro area Heads of State or Government have called on the Commission to present proposals to provide for a single supervisory mechanism involving the European Central Bank (ECB). The European Council in its conclusions of 29 June 2012 invited the President of the European Council to develop, in close collaboration with the President of the Commission, the President of the Eurogroup and the President of the ECB, a specific and time-bound road map for the achievement of a genuine Economic and Monetary Union, which includes concrete proposals on preserving the unity and integrity of the Single Market in financial services and which takes account of the Euro Area statement and the intention of the Commission to bring forward proposals based on Article 127 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU).

(2) The provision for a single supervisory mechanism is the first step towards the creation of a European banking union, underpinned by a true single rulebook for financial services and composed also of a European deposit insurance scheme and a common

\(^{3}\) OJC, p...
European resolution system, backed up by the possibility for credit institutions established in Euro area Member States to be directly recapitalised by the European Stability Mechanism where existing early intervention and resolution powers are insufficient to maintain financial stability.

(3) In order to provide for the single supervisory mechanism, Council Regulation (EU) No .../...[127(6) Regulation] confers specific tasks on the ECB concerning policies relating to the prudential supervision of credit institutions in the Member States whose currency is the euro. Other Member States may enter in a close cooperation with the ECB. Under that Regulation, the ECB is to coordinate the position of those Member States on the decisions to be taken by the Board of Supervisors of the European Banking Authority (EBA) falling within the scope of the ECB tasks.

(4) The conferral of supervisory tasks to the ECB in the banking sector for part of the Member States of the Union should not in any way hamper the functioning of the internal market in the field of financial services. It is therefore necessary to ensure the proper functioning of the EBA following that conferral.

(5) In view of the supervisory tasks conferred on the ECB by Council Regulation (EU) No .../...[127(6) Regulation], EBA should be able to carry out its tasks also in relation to the ECB. In order to ensure that existing mechanisms for settlement of disagreements and actions in emergency situations remain effective, a specific procedure should be provided for. In particular, if the ECB does not comply with an action by EBA to settle a disagreement or to address an emergency situation, it should be required to explain its reasons. In that case, whenever based on requirements set out in directly applicable Union law EBA can adopt an individual decision addressed to the financial institution concerned, it should do so.

(6) In order to ensure that interests of all Member States are adequately taken into account and to allow for the proper functioning of the EBA with a view to maintain and deepen the internal market in the field of financial services voting modalities should be adapted, in particular with regard to decisions taken by the EBA at simple majority.

(7) Decisions concerning breaches of Union law and settlement of disagreements should be examined by an independent panel of highly qualified experts appointed by the Board of Supervisors. The decisions proposed by the panel to the Board of Supervisors should be considered as adopted unless rejected by a simple majority, which should include an adequate number of votes from members from Member States participating in the SSM and from Member States that do not participate in the SSM.

(8) The members of the independent panel set up according to Article 41(2) of Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010 should not be considered to be in a situation of conflict of interest where they are representatives of competent authorities which are part of the SSM and a given case to be decided upon by the Panel concerns the competent authority which they represent. The EBA should develop rules of procedure for the panel that ensure its independence and objectivity.
(9) The composition of the Management Board should be balanced and proper representation of Member States not participating in the SSM should be ensured.

(10) In order to ensure proper functioning of the EBA and adequate representation of all Member States, the voting modalities, the composition of the Management Board, the composition of the independent panel and the effectiveness of the mechanism for the settlement of disputes should be reviewed.

(11) Since the objectives of this Regulation, namely ensuring a high, effective and consistent level of prudential regulation and supervision across the European Union, protecting the integrity, efficiency and orderly functioning of financial markets and maintaining the stability of the financial system, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can, therefore, by reason of the scale of the action, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives,
